He plans to become a doctor. Swimming and golf are two sports the young Swiss man enjoys. He has been impressed so far with the large areas of countryside found in the United States. We welcome him to the Appomattox Community.

Adlean Harvey (left), who previously worked at Moore's Country Store, has been with the home for 4 years. Torrence Reunion

On August 17 the Torrence family met at the WOW building for their 12th consecutive reunion. One hundred and thirty-one family members and guests were registered.

The family members present are the parents of Alfred Earl Torrence and Mary Agnes (Aggie) Coleman Torrence. The surviving child of this union is Jesse L. Torrence, Sr. of Route 2. The oldest grandchild, Mrs. Lucy Woodson Ferguson of Lynchburg, and the youngest grandchild, Hunter Douglas Agee of Winston Salem, N.C., were present, as well as the two great-great-great grandaughters, Roxanne and Julia Carol Martin of Spout Spring.

The last building which Alfred Torrence built on the family farm is being taken down, and Dennis Torrence, a great grandson, had made picture frames from some of the material to frame a Coat-of-Arms and a family group picture. At a drawing for these the winner was Wayne Timberlake, the fiancee of Aileen Torrence, a great granddaughter.

From some of the same wood Dennis had made keychains with an Old English T burned into the wood for his grandfather to give to the family members.

Flowers for the head table were arranged and given by Mrs. Mildred O'Brien Alvis, a granddaughter. The other tables were attractively decorated with arrangements by Mrs. Dennis Torrence.

For several years Dennis has helped make, or made, a Coat-of-Arms to be given away. These were on display as well as the one he has made for his home, and for the home of his grandparents. Mrs. Mike Torrence had made a most attractive one for her parents in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Torrence. Dennis has been assisted in his work by his brothers Larry and Mike.

A family tree is being made, and Dennis has been assisted with this by Mrs. Mike Torrence, and his sister, Sheila Torrence. Mrs. Mike Torrence and Mrs. Dennis Torrence have compiled a Torrence cookbook.

Eleven family groups were represented Sunday. Alfred Torrence, the only child of Arthur and Fannie Cawthorne Torrence was here with his wife Mary from Riverview, Florida. All of the children of Hallie Torrence Morris (Mrs. Robert W.) were present. They were Betty Morris Webb, Earl Morris, Rachel Morris Day, Vara Morris Robertson, Willie Morris, Verna Morris Hamilton, Harold Morris, and Ruth Morris Jennings.

Family members living in Appomattox helped Thelma Torrence Conner coordinate the food and drinks; prepare the building, and see that it is back in order at the end of the day. This she has done for twelve years.

Dennis Torrence serves as president to the group. Others who have served in this capacity are Alfred Drinkard Torrence and Charles Elkin Agee, Jr. (now deceased). Cecil Torrence serves as treasurer, and Annie Torrence Ellett is the secretary.

ACHS Graduate Named Longwood Scholar

FARMVILLE, AUG. 15 - Mary Louise Parris, of Appomattox, has been named a Longwood Scholar, one of six incoming freshmen at Longwood College chosen for this high academic honor.

The Scholars program, initiated this year, provides exceptional students opportunities for advanced study, independent research, and other creative activities on the undergraduate level.

The six Scholars were selected from among applicants representing all areas of the state. Their selection was based upon high school academic records, college board scores, other standardized test scores, recommendations from school personnel and others, and a personal interview with the Longwood Scholars Review Board.

Longwood Scholars, working with their faculty advisers and department chairmen, may design their own course of study for the bachelor's degree or, in selected areas, a four-year master's degree program. Other features of the Scholars program include directed independent study, early access to higher level courses, and/or public presentation of an original study or creative work during the senior year.

Miss Parris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland B. Parris, Jr. At Appomattox High School, she served as vice president of the National Honor Society, a varsity cheerleader, and class officer. She plans to major in English and drama at Longwood.

The other Longwood Scholars are: Virginia Ann Johnson, Lynchburg; Cheryl Parks, Northampton; Karen Simpson, Roanoke; Glenette Lee Wann, Danville; and Kathleen Denton, Richmond.
